The dogs which killed is sheep owned by L. F. Putnam is Vernos, near the Guil-ford line a few weeks ago, re-appeared there tirse times, evidently in search of the mangled remnant of the flock. Mr. Putnam had a good sight of both dogs on Tuesday and fired upon them, wounding the bound. The animals are described as a brindle building and a black and waite nound, but efforts to trace their owner-ship have proved unavailing. It is supposed that these dogs are the ones which claised Hubert Stebbins's sheep in Guil-ford last week, killing one lamb.

A hearing before Judge J. L. Martin of the United States circuit court was set for Monday afternoon but as one of the interested parties chalmed insufficient notice, a hearing was set for August 27 in Hartford, Conn. High water mark in automobiling was reached Saturday and Sunday, according to the Brooks House register. The great-est number of automobile parties of the season were registered and the garage were full to overflowing Saturday night. One party of four stopped to supper Saturday night, 10 parties of from three to six people each, aggregating 41 people, spent Saturday night at the hotel; five parties, aggregating 23 people stopped to dinner Sunday; a party of six were at supper Sunday night and two parties registered for Sunday night. more parties registered Monday the road again. They came in from Northampton Saturday and broke down hey ran into town. The machine repaired but did not succeed in cetting as far as Putney the next day and was brought back for another session with the requirer. The tourists were still, waiting Wednesday.

Dr. H. D. Holton, secretary of the state board of health, was called to Ferriaburg the last of the week to investigate a case of smallpox. As the stending paysician had never seen a case of this disease he was not sure he had diagnosed it correctly, but Holton confirmed his suspicions. The woman who is ill came from Boston with her two children and has been at farmhouse a few days. When the nature of the case was understood prompt steps were taken to quarantine the pa-tient and all who had been associated with her since her arrival. A number of people whom she saw while on her way to the farm are being watched carefully. At the large milk farm where the woman is iii all the work is being done by the outsiders as none who lived in the house are allowed to go near the stock for fear of contagion. The patient told Dr. Holton that she did not know she had been exposed to the dread disease but the Roston board of health informed him that the only case of smallpox in Boston at that time was in the house where she lived. Although she is reported to in a serious condition her recover;

A tiny bark-louse has made its appearance in countless numbers on the rock maples about town and is causing much maples about town and is causing much speculation among those who have noticed them. Each specimen is less than an eighth of an inch long. They travel in flocks along the bark of maples, each flock giving a darker shade to a portion of the limb. The area of the flocks vary from a few square inches to two square feet. The number in larger groups may be estimated from a count made on a single square inch in the centre of a flock, where nearly 100 were found. The lice move over the surface of the bark, crawlmove over the surface of the bark, crawl ing slowly, and have something the appearance of a flock of sheep feeding over a distant pasture. They get their food from the bark of the tree and are probably not very damaging. Their appearance because brought out some interesting camples of the popular conception concerning the more dangerous insect pests, some men deciding on sight that they were brown-
